Nail the Interview By Showcasing
Your Strengths

What is your top struggle
right now in this job market?

Have you have ever struggled to talk about your strengths during an interview?

The struggle is real.

Identify and showcase your strengths to nail the interview

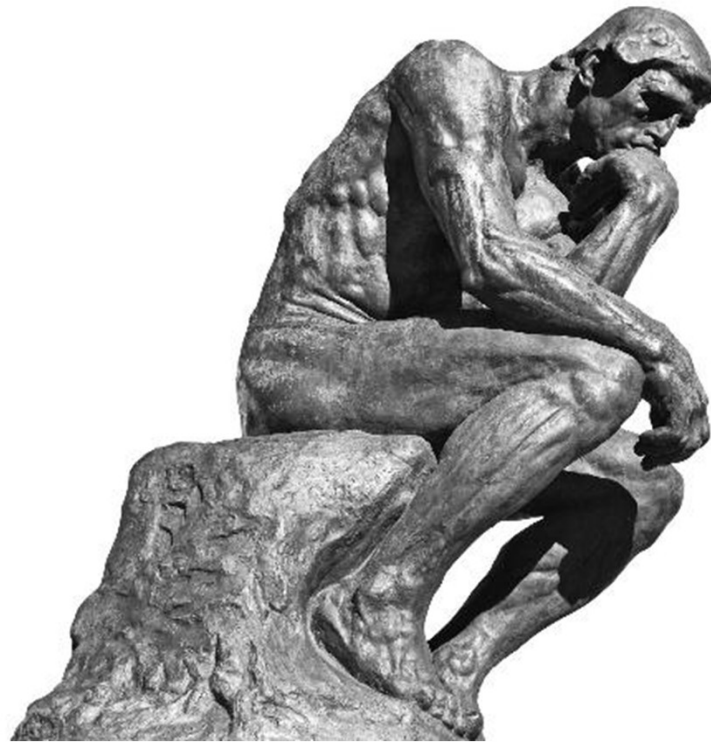

What is a limiting belief?

Limiting belief: a generalization, stereotype, or idea that you learned and accepted about yourself, about the world, or about other people that limits you in some way.

Men apply for a job when they meet only 60% of the qualifications, but women apply only if they meet 100% of them.

I don't meet enough of the requirements of this job to get hired.

Identify and showcase your strengths to nail the interview

1. Positive Feedback
2. Successful Past Experiences
3. Seek Feedback

Identify and showcase your strengths to nail the interview

1. Write down your strengths
2. Compare them with the job description
3. Practice behavioral questions
 - a. A behavioral interview question is a question that asks a candidate to share examples of specific situations they've been in to get a sense of how a candidate behaves in the work environment and displays particular soft skills.
 - b. S.T.A.R.: Situation, Task, Action, Result
